OUR RESPONSIBILITY TOWARDS NATURE.

ORGANIC COTTON

This fabric is not genetically modified and is grown without the use of chemicals. Organic cotton is grown using organic farming systems that restore and maintain soil health and fertility and promote biologically diverse agriculture. These systems advocate banning the use of synthetic toxic pesticides and fertilizers, as well as genetically modified seeds. Compared to traditional cotton, 88% less water is used in growing organic cotton.

RECYCLED COTTON

Recycled cotton is defined as cotton fabric converted into cotton fibre that can be reused in textile products. The largest volume of recycled cotton sources is produced through pre-consumer waste, such as cutting scraps. The main benefit of these procedures is saving of energy amount, water and dye. Cotton recycling minimizes the environmental impact of clothes by reducing the amount of textile waste ending up in landfills.

RECYCLED POLYESTER

The fabric is created by transforming waste (PET bottles) into a usable product (polyester fabric) through eco-friendly procedures. Recycled polyester is of great importance in the modern textile industry, due to its zero-waste impact: about 5 used plastic bottles are removed from nature by producing one sweatshirt. Compared to the production of regular polyester, 58% less water is used in the production of recycled polyester, and CO2 emissions are reduced by 54%.

88%

less water is used in growing organic cotton, compared to traditional cotton.

70%

of total garment production in the future has predicted to contain recycled cotton.

54%

is CO2 reduction by recycling polyester, compared to regular polyester production.

OUR STANDARDS

• EN ISO 20345:2011

The standard all styles of safety footwear are tested against. It specifies that ALL safety footwear must have toe protection and sets a standard of 200 - joules impact-resistance (equivalent to a 20 kg weight dropped 1.020 mm onto the toes) and a 15 KN compression test (equivalent to 1.5 t resting on the toe area).

• EN ISO 20347:2012

This is the safety standard for occupational footwear. This footwear is not required to have steel or composite toe caps, but they are expected to have antistatic, fully enclosed and energy absorbing heel, water absorption and penetration resistance, cleated sole and outsole resistance to fuel oil.
